Profile

Highly motivated developer with a love for solving problems seeking to launch a career in what I am most passionate about - building web applications. Through my intense studies at Business College Helsinki and through personal projects I have hands-on experience developing and deploying applications with javascript centric tech stacks. Thanks to my background in teaching piano I have good social and communication skills, and as a collegial leader I have experience in leadership and I know the importance of good teamwork.

Experience

My portfolio website Built with React, fetches project data from a json server.
Live GitHub

Are You Bored? A group project that implemented several public APIs such as Soptify, Omdb, New York Times. I Worked on UX/UI and fetching data from the APIs. Learned how to effectively use git as a group. GitHub

Group project 2 A social media app where I worked on the frontend . I mostly worked on React components and implemented HERE maps API to show locations that were stored in the database.

Interactive CV An interactive game like CV with navigation control and sounds. I used an object oriented approach. Live GitHub

Car Project CRUD application for storing car details. This was a practise project for NodeJS, Express and EJS. GitHub
